CABI is not like other publishers

CABI is an international not-for-profit organisation that improves people's lives worldwide by providing information and applying scientific expertise to solve problems in agriculture and the environment. CABI is also a global publisher producing key scientific publications, including world renowned databases, as well as compendia, books, eBooks and full text electronic resources.

The profits from CABI's publishing activities enable us to work with farming communities around the world, supporting them as they battle with poor soil, invasive species and pests and diseases, to improve their livelihoods and help provide food for an ever growing population.

CABI is an international intergovernmental organisation and we gratefully acknowledge the core financial support from our member countries (and lead agencies) including the United Kingdom (Department for International Development), China (Chinese Ministry of Agriculture), Australia (Australian Centre for International Agricultural Research), Canada (Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada), The Netherlands (Directorate-General for International Cooperation) and Switzerland (Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation).

Welcome to the CABI Books Catalogue 2021

This catalogue contains our recent and forthcoming monographs, textbooks and practitioner titles across our full range of publishing areas.

Contents

04 agricultural science	15 veterinary science and medicine
06 forestry, ecology and the environment	20 animal sciences
09 plant and crop science	22 tourism, hospitality and leisure
11 horticulture	26 title index
13 human health	28 author index
14 food and nutrition	31 how to order

Textbooks

Indicates the publication is a textbook and available for inspection by lecturers wishing to evaluate it for course use. Please visit www.cabi.org/bookshop/textbooks to find out more.

A number of textbooks are now enhanced by open resources, to improve the learning experience for students and researchers. Including lecture slides, maps, images and other material, these resources provide additional information to supplement CABI's publishing products: www.cabi.org/bookshop/openresources

Open Access

Indicates that the publication is Open Access.

CABI believes that a crucial way to solve problems in agriculture and the environment is by creating, managing, curating and disseminating information. Discover and download CABI's open access books here: www.cabi.org/openaccess/books

New in paperback

Indicates that this title is now available in paperback for the first time.

eBooks

Many CABI titles are available in eBook format, and these are indicated throughout this catalogue. eBooks are available for individual purchase through the CABI Bookshop, as well as major eBook retailers and institutional suppliers. Find out more at www.cabi.org/ebooks

Science Communication Skills for Journalists

A Resource Book for University Faculty in Africa

Edited by Charles Wendo, SciDev.Net, Uganda

This book covers science communication skills and provides hands-on guidance together with examples, learning activities, graded and ungraded quizzes to facilitate learning. There are five academic review papers reflecting on key science journalism and communication issues in Africa.

Presenting Science Concisely

Bruce Kirchoff, Kimberly M Cuny, both University of North Carolina at Greensboro, USA

The focus of this book is on shorter presentations, three-minute talks, poster presentations, elevator pitches and advocacy speeches. It begins with best practices for three-minute presentations, then applies the same principles to slightly longer (posters) and shorter (elevator pitches and advocacy speeches) presentations.

Conservation Agriculture in Africa Climate Smart Agricultural Development

Edited by Saidi Mkomwa, African Conservation Tillage (ACT), Nairobi, Amir H Kassam, FAO, Italy and University of Reading, UK

Conservation Agriculture (the use of no tillage systems) to preserve soil structure and integrity has become an increasingly important step towards sustainable farming. This book brings together conservation agriculture and climate smart decision making processes for the first time, focusing on Africa.

Gender, Climate Change and Livelihoods

Vulnerabilities and Adaptations

Edited by Joshua Eastin, Kendra Dupuy

This book applies a gendered lens to the dynamic linkages between climate change and livelihoods in developing countries.

It examines how climate change affects women and men in distinct ways, and the implications for earning income and accessing the natural, social, economic, and political resources required to survive and thrive.

Youth and the Rural Economy in Africa

Hard Work and Hazard

Edited by James Sumberg

There are many accepted views about the role and position of youth in the African agricultural economy. This book challenges those assumptions by analysing new studies, particularly of gender and social difference. It is a major contribution to current debates and development policy about youth, agriculture and employment in rural Africa.

The Fight Against Food Shortages and Surpluses

Perspectives of a Practitioner

John McClintock, ACTION for Food Reserves, Belgium

This book presents a logical argument, rigorously formulated, for practical policy options to fight food shortages and surpluses. It navigates the reader through issues and ideologies surrounding hunger, presents and tests hypotheses with theory and evidence, and concludes with workable policies to address food crises.

Making tools and research available to solve problems in agriculture and the environment

CABI believes that a crucial way to solve problems in agriculture and the environment is by creating, managing, curating and disseminating information. Through our experience in scientific research, publishing, knowledge management and communications, we put know-how into the hands of the people who need it most.
